Miners Elections Resulted in Over 90 p.c Vote

Many Surprises In Voting for Secretary and Pit Committees

William White President by Acclamation—William Chapman Secretary—Treasurer—Defeat of Gillespie Caused Surprise

The annual elections of Coleman Miners' Association, on June 15, passed off quietly, though keen interest was shown by the voting, 267 voting at International mine, and 279 at McGillivray, total 546. Several did not vote.

Interest centred on the election for secretary-treasurer. D. Gillespie, veteran secretary, failed to secure re-election, William Chapman topping the poll with 188, Max Stegler 181, and Gillespie 169.

William White was returned unopposed as president of the local.

The defeat of Mr. Gillespie caused surprise around town. He has been a faithful worker for many years, a staunch labor advocate, and an all-round keen participant in community affairs. Why he was defeated is hard to explain, for he has filled the position with tact and patience under trying conditions. Displaced by the Workers' Unity League supporters in 1931, he was replaced in office in 1932 when the Moderates ousted from office the radicals. He consistently fought for the rights of the workers, and filled the office in an efficient manner. He stoutly maintained the integrity of agreements between the workers and the companies, and carried the respect and goodwill of the community at large.

The general opinion among a large section of the mine-workers and public is that his influence will still be a strong factor, for his unselfish devotion to the interests of his fellow men and the town in general has commanded admiration.

His successor will assume office at the end of this month. He has had many years of service as a member of the local union, and has been prominent in the councils of the miners.

Max Stegler, who was second choice for secretary, was actively identified with the United Mine Workers of America, the original union in the Crow's Nest Pass field. The large vote he secured demonstrates that he has a considerable influence, being only seven votes behind Chapman. It is a noticeable fact that all three candidates were Moderates, who stoutly resisted the encroachments of the W.U.L. section in the troublous times of 1931-32.

William Hayson, labor stalwart for years in Coleman, topped the poll for International pit committee, with Harold Chamberlain just one vote behind.

On McGillivray pit committee J. R. Atkinson, topped the poll with 155 votes. It was his first election. Jack Griffiths was second with 138 votes. James Glendenning, secretary of the hospital board, headed the poll at International mine in the voting for hospital board, with 180 votes, and William Graham led on McGillivray voting. Results of polls are:

Scrutineers were: Eph. Hill, Ed. Wood, J. R. Atkinson, for International mine; Robert Lloyd, Axel Anderson, Jim Yates, for McGillivray mine.

The voting was carried out in a satisfactory manner, and the results declared about 9.30 p.m. the same day.

BELLEVUE SPORT NOTES

The Bellevue baseball team swamped the Coleman team to the tune of 20 to 4 here. The score was so big there was not much baseball in it. It was a batting spree for Bellevue, knocking Yagas, the Coleman star hurler, off the hill early in the game. From then on it was a walk away for the locals. Bellevue lineup: Lund, 2b; Hayson, 1b; Mattson, p; Morris, c; Gatto, 3b; Youngberg, s.s.; Coats, l.f.; Duff, c.f.; Stacey, r.f.

Gus Mattson pitched fine ball for Bellevue, fanning a number of the Coleman hitters. The game was umpired by Crawford and Gentile to the satisfaction of all.

SCOUTS PAY TO PLANT 50,000 TREES

When a restricted budget caused the Ontario Department of Forestry to cancel the annual May 24th Scout reforestation camp at Angus, near Camp Borden, Scout Headquarters suggested the boys pay their food cost. More applied than there was accommodation for, and during two days planted 61,000 young trees.

A stone wall on the south side of the United church, and a cement sidewalk from the church corner to the town hall will give a greatly improved appearance to the place. Let the good work continue.

NOT ONE DISCOVERED THE ERROR

Last week 50c was offered to the school pupil who discovered the grammatical error in the advertisements. Those who sent in replies gave a mis-spelt word instead of the grammatical error. They picked out the word "direct" in E. Ledieu's advertisement, which was spelt "direct." The grammatical error was in the advertisement of Bellevue Bakery, in the first sentence, and so that all may see it, it is left the same as it appeared last issue. Possibly the boys and girls will discover the error.

Judging by the answers, the contestants did not know the difference between a grammatical error and a mis-spelt word. In order to encourage them to try again, another grammatical error appears in the ads this week. If you discover it, write it on a sheet of paper, place it in an envelope and leave at Journal office. The first taken from the box, on Monday evening will be given 50c.

One young lady discovered the error, but she was barred from the competition, as it is confined to school pupils.

Bishop Monohan Gave Impressive Address to Catholic Congregation

The Faithful of Pass Towns Flock to Hear Inspiring Messages on His First Visit

At all places in the Crow's Nest Pass where Roman Catholic churches are established, large congregations were present to greet Rt. Rev. P. J. Monohan, Bishop of Calgary diocese, who confirmed candidates at each place.

At Coleman confirmation of candidates took place on Monday morning, followed by Mass. In the evening His Lordship delivered a very inspiring message, impressing on people that the only sure way to improve conditions was by seeking spiritual guidance and the observing of the ten commandments. All of man's proposed remedies and methods had not availed, and it is in the minds of the people, an in their attitude in observing Christian principles that real improvement can be made.

The bishop was greeted by a large number of church members here.

Crow's Nest Pass musical festival dates have been changed to October 28th, 27th and 28th, at Blairmore. Persons having syllabus copies should change the dates NOW. Frank J. Smith, of Hillcrest is secretary.

World's Future At Stake

The World Economic Conference now meeting in London constitutes what is probably the greatest assemblage of nations ever convened in the history of the world. In its opening address, Premier Ramsay MacDonald declared: "There is greater authority gathered in this hall than has perhaps ever been brought under one roof in the world's history."

Sixty-seven nations are represented in this momentous conference, or a larger number of separate national units than most people had knowledge existed. But it is not alone the size of the gathering that makes it outstanding in importance among all great world economic conferences; rather it is the fact that, for the first time since the Great War, it is composed of Government plenipotentiaries with the power to act.

As one well known economic authority points out, there have been many economic conferences in the past ten years, but they were composed of experts who were called upon merely to advise, but without authority to commit their Governments. The present conference is quite different; it is made up of representatives of the Governments of all nations, clothed with authority to reach definite agreements, thereby committing those Governments to exert their power and authority to secure ratification of such agreements by their various legislative bodies. There is, therefore, hope that definite action will result.

Whether such action does result depends, says the economic authority already quoted, upon the answer to a fundamental question. Will the Governments really turn their backs on the ideal of national self-sufficiency, and try to rebuild prosperity on a basis of interdependence and mutual benefit in international trade, even though that may involve a modification of their present national policies? If so, then there is no reason why the Conference should not be a great success. But, if not, there is little hope of preventing a drift into even greater depression, the ultimate outcome of which no man can foretell.

This is the crux of the whole matter, and discussing it in his opening address, Premier Ramsay MacDonald further said: "Have we come to deliberate and decide as though our respective nations were isolated units in the world? Then we shall fail and the world which looks upon us today with expectations will have to drain a bitter cup of disappointment. Have we come knowing that the permanent good of each is dependent upon the permanent good of all, and determined to co-operate in coming to agreements which will make a renewal of prosperity possible? Then we shall succeed, and expectations of the world will be justified. We must not fail."

And His Majesty the King in opening the conference sounded the keynote when in a stirring appeal he said: "In the face of a crisis which all realize and acknowledge, I appeal to you all to co-operate for the sake of the ultimate good of the whole world. It cannot be beyond the powers of man so to use the vast resources of the world as to insure the material progress of civilization."

Surely it is inconceivable that the leading statesmen of the world, men clothed with all the responsibilities of government and whose very positions have made them fully cognizant of the underlying and fundamental causes of the world's present economic sickness, will be so nationally selfish, so neglectful of their own and their countries' responsibilities to the world at large, as to take such irreconcilable attitudes that the success of the conference will be wrecked.

President Roosevelt in his stirring pre-conference appeal to the sovereign heads of all nations stressed the terrible responsibility that would rest on any nation, or group of nations, which stood out against the rest of the world in their insistence upon narrow nationalistic and purely selfish policies. He realized, as Premier Ramsay MacDonald realized, and as all sane and sensible people must realize, that a purely nationalistic policy in this modern world is one which by impoverishing other nations, impoverishes those who pursue it. No nation can permanently enrich itself at the expense of others. Mutual enrichment is a condition of individual enrichment.

To quote Premier Ramsay MacDonald once again: "Nationalism in the sphere of politics may be essential to human freedom. Self-sufficient nationalism in economics is the death knell of advancing prosperity. The nearer we can make the world an economic unit the better will it be for each nation. In any event, international co-operation is our best way to national recovery, and the nation which looks after itself in an international frame of mind will not only lead the world in enlightenment but in well-being."

Narrow nationalism must go. If it does not, the very nations which persist in it will themselves go—go down in the crash and debacle of a destroyed civilization. The present World Economic Conference is a turning point in the life of the present generation. The hope and prayer of the teeming masses of the world's population is that their leaders will rise to the occasion, and courageously and energetically take the right road.

New Canadians

Education Necessary In Order That They Should Know Something About Canada

"It is too bad the government doesn't look into this matter. When you make application for naturalization papers, they should give you some literature so that you would know something about Canada."

Judge F. A. G. Ouseley, hearing applications for naturalization in district court, made this observation. He regretted that something was not being done to help new Canadians secure their citizenship papers.

Brown Root Rot

Disease Affects Clover In Alberta and Saskatchewan Areas

Brown root rot has been observed on sweet clover, alfalfa and common clover growing in the southern and central parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan, as far north as Prince Albert in the latter province, and Athabasca and Beaveridge in Alberta. The fungus is native and apparently abundant in the cultivated black soils of the prairie area mentioned. The disease has not been reported as occurring elsewhere in Canada, or in foreign countries. — Dominion Laboratory, Edmonton.

Freight Rate On Butter

Move Made By Western Provinces For Better Consideration

Joint action on the part of the Provincial dairy associations of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will likely be taken shortly to obtain a reduction in the freight rate on butter shipments from the prairie to Vancouver and Eastern Canada.

The move follows upon the rejection by the board of railway commissioners of an application for a reduction in the freight rate on butter shipments from the prairies to Vancouver and to eastern Canada. Freight rates on butter are the same now as they were when the product was selling for 40 cents per pound.

Saskatchewan dairy representatives have already communicated with officials of the two sister provinces with a view to holding a meeting and planning a joint appeal to the board of railway commissioners for a rehearing of the case.

FAT MAN LOSES 63 lbs.

Kruschen and Walking Overweight men who want to lose a few pounds can have the benefit of this man's experience. He gives them to us for publication:—

"In a little over twelve months I have reduced my weight from 227 lbs. to 164 lbs., by taking a dose of Kruschen Salts every morning for six months, and taking walking exercise every day. This remarkable achievement is all the more interesting when one considers that I did not resort to any form of dieting."—G. L. B.

You can take off fat with Kruschen Salts if you will take one-half teaspoon in hot water every morning before breakfast, modify your diet, and exercise regularly.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. The old arm chair won't hold any more. You'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work and active recreation and you'll sleep like a top. You'll lose fat, and probably live years longer.

Takes Opposite View

French Academy Thinks Ship Should Be Called "He"

Trespassing on the domain of the Academie Francaise, the Academie de Marine has ventured to tackle a grammatical problem. It relates to the much-voiced question of the sex of ships, writes the Paris correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph.

In England, where people do not have to worry about the gender of inanimate objects, it is nevertheless firmly established that ships have a right to the feminine pronoun. The French, who are much too logical to indulge in such personifications, take the opposite view on the ground that the words which mean ship—"navire," "vaisseau," "bâtiment"—are masculine.

But, while it may be perfectly satisfactory to talk about "le navire," it sounds very odd to speak of "le Normandie" or "le République" when a vessel happened to have a feminine noun for a name.

The Academie de Marine therefore demands that the present practice should be placed before feminine nouns in order that "outrages against grammar, good sense and euphony" may be avoided.

Dick Turpin's Coat

Money and Jewels Found Recently In Lining Of Old Garment

Money and jewelry have been found in the lining of a plum-colored velvet coat which belonged to Dick Turpin, the famous highwayman.

The coat was recently bought by Mr. Rutter, of Cambridge, along with the mask, pistols and spurs which Dick Turpin left at the Three Tuns Inn, Cambridge, on Jan. 12, 1739, when he escaped from the Newgate runners.

He never claimed them before he was hanged at York on April 10 of the same year, and they passed to an excise man, from whose great-grandson at Cardington, Mr. Rutter bought them for £50.

While Mr. Rutter was carrying the coat, a George I. half-crown, dated 1717, fell from the lining. Then the other articles were found, comprising: Six silver coins, two copper coins, a gold ring, two silver rings, and a pair of silver-gilt ear-rings.

Would Only Benefit Few

Many People Would Suffer If Prices Unduly Increased

The United States and Europe are trying to combine so as to raise prices all round. If wheat were $10 per bushel and everything else up in proportion, would the world be in a better position than if wheat were $1 per bushel and everything else priced in proportion. If a man should die at seventy years of age and leave a wife fifty years of age with an income of $500 a year how could she get along when increased prices for necessities came upon her?

The widows, and men who have retired because of age, because of sickness, women who have saved enough to live modestly, that army of children who are unfit for work, etc. The rise in price of lumber might help the woodman, the increase in the price of steel might help the makers of steel and their puddlers, but in going all around the social course it would crush perhaps as many as it would lift up. This is especially true of country villages and towns, where there are more people living on small incomes in proportion to population than in larger places. If we talk of a national fund to help these people with small incomes, we complete the circle and arrive at the very place from which we started. We might just as well leave things as they are and let old supply and demand do the regulating of prices.—Port Rowan News.

Wild Cattle In England

Unique Herd Maintained On One Of Old Estates

It may surprise many people to know that there are wild cattle in England, yet there is an authentic herd, not running wild, but living on the estate of one of England's oldest peers, the Earl of Tankerville in Northumberland.

For centuries these animals have had their habitat on the Earl's wooded demesne of 700 acres, which is so stoutly enclosed by a stone wall that the breed has remained pure for upwards of five hundred years. There are just 44 of them, but as it costs quite a sum to feed and care for them without producing any return the Earl has been obliged to ask for some assistance in their maintenance. The Zoological Society has come forward, and the preservation of this unique herd is assured.

These cattle are pure white with red muzzles, and black tips to their upward tilted horns. They are smaller than ordinary cows, extremely shy despite the fact that nobody ever seeks to touch them, and are dangerous to strangers.

It is said they are descendants of the aurochs, primitive wild oxen, which were hunted in England by Roman soldiers when the Caesars held sway.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

French Eat Less Bread

Bread-eating capacity of the French is steadily declining, says Edmond Chaix, president of the Touring Club of France. Once the world's champion bread-eaters with a daily per capita consumption of two pounds, the modern Frenchman consumes but one pound ten ounces. M. Chaix blames the decline on the war, during which, he says, his countrymen became tired of poor quality bread.

Wager Was Easily Won

New York Times Outwitted By Young Club Man

In the course of an argument among some of the younger members of the University Club, one of the group made an generalization that writing poetry was easy and that, although God knows, no poet, could write a poem and get it printed. The New York Times, he had said, had said he could. Money to cover his wager bobbed up at once. Then, with a little effort he wrote a poem—anyway, he wrote eight lines that had some rhymes. The incorruptible Times came next. On that matter, he showed himself a young man of invention. First, he wrote a letter signed X.Y.Z. to the question-and-answer department of the paper's book section, asking if some reader could give the last four lines of the poem which began—and he quoted the first four lines of his poem. The Times ran that. He immediately replied, signed A.B.C., giving X.Y.Z. the last four lines of the poem. The Times, never suspecting, ran that. Then, after some mild grumbling about instant publication he drew down his bet.—New Yorker.

The subjects for the papers to be submitted by March 1, 1934, are as follows:

The future of the export trade in Canadian agriculture.

Possible development of power-using industries in eastern Canada.

Have Helped Greatly

Picture shows have been one of the valuable things of the depression era, giving the people a chance to direct their minds and thoughts to something other than themselves and their own troubles.

Ten Thousand-Foot Tower

French Engineer Proposes To Erect Tower In Paris

An amazing hollow concrete tower nearly half a mile high, with a spiral motor road leading to a vast superstructure consisting of a garage for 400 cars, a dancing pavilion, a 1,000-seat restaurant, sun-parlor, weather office, and finally a tall slim aerial light-house.

This is the breath-taking project of a famous French constructional engineer, M. Eugene Freyssinet.

He proposes this skyscraper marvel, which would completely dwarf the present Eiffel Tower, as an attraction for the world exposition to be held in Paris in 1937.

Visitors would be able to drive their own cars to the clouds for lunch or dinner.

The spiral road would be four miles long and make thirty turns around the tower. It would be the only means of ascent or descent, for no lifts would be installed.

And M. Freyssinet is ready to build the tower up to a height of 10,000 feet, or nearly two miles, if the world exposition will finance it.

He estimates the cost at about two million dollars.

"Don't you think it will be marvellous on a hot day to jump into a motor car and drive up into the clouds, from where you will have a magnificent panorama of the entire Paris region?" he said.

First Canadian Movie

Filmed Under Direction Of Canadian Social Hygiene Council

The first Canadian motion picture produced in Hollywood and the first Hollywood picture to have a premiere in Canada has been placed in circulation. It is "Damaged Lives," the problem play, filmed under direction of the Canadian Social Hygiene Council. In its first week in Toronto it attracted 25,000 persons.

The picture will be shown throughout the British Empire. It has been booked for screening in England under sponsorship of the ministry of health. Its producers regard the film as probably the most extensive piece of public health education ever undertaken by means of talking motion picture.

CANADA'S CASE IS PRESENTED AT CONFERENCE

London, Eng.—In precise terms Prime Minister R. B. Bennett submitted Canada's case before the world economic conference. He pressed for concerted international action to raise the world level of wholesale prices.

But this alone would not solve the immediate difficulties of the producers of primary products, he told the conference. The accumulated carry-over of 350,000,000 bushels of wheat could be dealt effectively with only by international agreement involving a possible reduction of acreage sown to wheat until the abnormal carry-over had continued to depress the market had been disposed of.

Prime Minister Bennett described as "most reassuring" the statement of Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the British Exchequer, that the world's greatest wheat-importing country recognized the necessity of such action.

The conference, however, was in substantial agreement, said Mr. Bennett, on these points:

- (1) The general level of wholesale prices must be raised.
- (2) An international monetary standard should be restored as soon as practicable.
- (3) Consistent with the national economic systems, the channels of trade must be cleared.

The real problem, Mr. Bennett declared, was how could those ends be achieved.

The Prime Minister opened his speech to the world economic conference by indicating how Canada, although relatively small in population, had achieved a position of world importance. In 1932 she attained fifth rank among the exporting countries of the world, her exports being exceeded only by those of the United Kingdom, the United States, Germany and France.

Canada therefore was deeply concerned with the outcome of the conference.

Canada was agreed, the Prime Minister continued, that the monetary and economic aspects of the depression were inseparably interwoven and that a solution must be sought by simultaneous action.

"On the monetary side we are wholeheartedly in agreement with the program outlined by the Chancellor of the Exchequer of the United Kingdom," said Mr. Bennett. "I wish, however, to stress a few points of his program which we believe should receive even greater emphasis than he gave to them."

"In the first place I wish to urge with all the power at my command that the two greatest trading and creditor nations represented at the conference should at the earliest possible moment reach agreement upon a de facto stabilization of their exchange rates.

"I am aware how exceedingly difficult this will be under existing conditions but it is clear that without such agreement this conference will fail in the purpose for which it is called. The United Kingdom and the United States must agree to stabilize their currencies in relation to each other and, if a common pricing policy can be agreed upon, in relation to the gold franc.

"The ratios originally selected may be provisional, but they should represent so far as may be ascertainable the real and permanent value of the respective currencies as determined by the relative price structures and the balance of payments.

"Such a program could be progressively extended to the smaller countries.

"As one of the smaller countries whose economic life has been seriously affected by erratic fluctuations in the world's basic currencies, Canada will endeavor to maintain the value of its dollar on a stabilized basis in London and New York when these two centres agree to establish a stable relationship between their currencies."

Exchange stabilization was the immediate necessity, but the world level of wholesale prices must be raised by concerted international action, the Canadian Prime Minister declared.

Small European Nations Would Follow Mussolini

If Big Powers Do Not Find Solution To Economic Problem

London, Eng.—The small nations of Europe have turned long eyes toward Rome and a possible bloc under Benito Mussolini's dictatorship as the big powers, undecided over war debts and monetary stabilization, threatened progress of the world economic conference.

"Should United States, Great Britain and France fail to bring the way out of the economic morass at the world economic conference," Emile Francqui, the veteran Belgian diplomat, told the Associated Press "the small nations of Europe will cluster about one statesman capable of leadership, Mussolini."

"I Duce is fostering sensible ideas for united action while the great powers are talking about civilization dropping over the abyss, but doing nothing. The small nations, crying for leadership, will follow Mussolini."

Overland Rates For Ships

Apply For Hull Insurance On Ships For Voyage From Vancouver To Regina

Vancouver, B.C.—Marine insurance agents were nonplussed when asked for rates on hull insurance on M.S. Vancouver City for a voyage from Vancouver to Regina. No marine insurance company has overland rates for ships.

However, the matter was simplified when it was learned the Vancouver Merchants' exchange wanted protection for the big model of M.S. Vancouver City, which was installed in the exchange by the ship's owner, Sir William Reardon Smith.

The model is to go on exhibition at the World's Grain Show at Regina and the exchange sought protection for it for the "voyage." This was obtained when it was realized it was not a full-grown vessel that was going to cross the mountains.

Seeking Home In Canada

Baroness From Austria Wants To Settle In Dominion

Montreal, Que.—Eager to find a Canadian home for herself, her Austrian husband and their two children, the Baroness Von Ritschl will tour Canada within a week or so, she told newspapermen here as she boarded a Canadian National Railways train for New York. The baroness is well known as a distinguished painter in miniatures under her maiden name of Lorna Burgoyne.

An Englishwoman, Baroness Von Ritschl divides her time between her husband's Austrian estate and her native Devonshire. She and her husband have decided to settle in Canada and the tour of the Dominion is expected to find them a suitable home. The baroness hopes to found an association of Canadian miniature painters.

Pay Debts In Silver

Twenty Million Ounces Of Silver

Washington.—Twenty million ounces of silver has been received at Bombay, India, by the United States as payment of the $10,000,000 British war debt instalment.

Great Britain, however, is responsible for its delivery to United States.

The state department also disclosed that the federal assay office in New York had received 2,000,000 ounces of silver from Italy, meeting its partial payment of $1,000,000.

The silver was received by the United States government at 50 cents an ounce, under the inflation law passed recently by the special session, authorizing Mr. Roosevelt to accept a maximum of $200,000,000 in debt payments in silver.

Win Sweepstake

Oshawa, Ont.—Word of their drawing about $20,000 in Canadian funds from a sweepstake conducted by the government of Liechtenstein, a principality in the mountains of central Europe, reached Harry Breakall and his wife here. The sweepstake ticket, on the English Derby, cost Breakall, who signed himself "Lucky," about $1.50. He purchased the ticket from a chance acquaintance.

Better To Perspire

Chatham, Ont.—If you are too hot to perspire—It's sunstroke, according to Dr. W. A. Elgie here. No matter how hot the day, as long as humans perspire freely there is no danger of prostration from the heat.

MANY NATIONS ARE SUPPORTING TARIFF TRUCE

London, Eng.—The world economic conference is moving toward realities. More nations have joined the temporary tariff truce. Behind the scenes the pieces are shifting on the international chess board into new combinations; the gold countries of Europe are getting together.

Banking experts are grappling with currency stabilization, and the lobbies are full of gossip of bilateral trade agreements. Great Britain and the United States jointly call for reduction in excessive tariffs; in a world of high protection Holland raises a belated voice for wholesale tariff reductions.

The increase to 19 in the number of nations joining the temporary tariff truce was not the only bright factor. Not long after Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald had announced adherence of the Netherlands, Roumania, Denmark and Finland, he called—and the plea was echoed by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, of the United States, and amplified by Maxim Litvinoff, of Russia—for world-wide agreement in the truce.

War debts were temporarily settled by the United States' acceptance of a payment of $10,000,000 made by the United Kingdom in silver, and the atmosphere was lightened by President Roosevelt's invitation to Britain to send representatives for a conference on the debts, although the president made it plain only congress has power to make any revision.

War debts are barred from the agenda of the world conference but following emphatic declarations by Britain, Italy, Germany, Poland, South Africa and other nations that final settlement of war debts is essential to world-wide recovery, the conference could not fail to have been affected by the pre-debt payment uncertainty.

The statements of policy given the conference by Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Secretary Hull, were in accord on a wide range of points, notably in an urgent demand for reduction of the excessive tariff barriers blocking world trade, and the United States delegation particularly welcomed the British program as brightening prospects for the conference's success.

Furthermore, it was authoritatively learned the conference of British, United States and French treasury and Central Bank experts which has been at grips with the troubled question of currency stabilization, saw much improved prospects of reaching an agreement on de facto stabilization.

Three figures dominated the conference scene as the nations, big and little, submitted plans, proposals and suggestions in the plenary session. They were Neville Chamberlain, in precise phrase advancing the British plan; Cordell Hull, in more general terms, pleading earnestly for international co-operation, and stocky Maxim Litvinoff, careless of the fate of capitalistic nations, yet offering a billion dollars' worth of orders—always conditional on the provision of satisfactory credits.

The British spokesman was emphatic that action must be taken simultaneously in the financial, monetary and economic spheres alike. The United Kingdom "will spare neither goodwill nor determination in our efforts to secure success," he promised. Mr. Chamberlain saw three great pathways to a solution:

1. Final settlement of reparations and war debts.
2. Abrogation of controls on exchange movements, and resumption of international trading.
3. Coordination of production and marketing, removal of prohibitions and similar trade barriers, and reduction of excessive tariffs in order to promote a normal flow of international trade.

May Meet At Rome

Important Meeting Being Considered By Four Governments

London, Eng.—An important meeting of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, Premier Mussolini, Premier Salazar and Chancellor Hitler in Rome at the end of June, is being considered by the four government chiefs, it was revealed recently.

Premier Mussolini, Italian quarters said, is anxious to initiate his four-power pact for European peace by sensational face-to-face interviews with the other statesmen.

Regardless of whether the "Big Four" accedes to Rome's wishes, it is understood the first meeting under the four-power pact will be held in Rome before the Geneva disarmament debate resumes July 3rd.

Decreased Revenues

Ottawa, Ont.—Considerable reductions in Dominion revenue during the first two months of the present fiscal year (April and May), are shown in the figures released by the Department of National Revenue. The customs and excise revenue in the two months has dropped $7,101,405, as compared with the corresponding months last year, and the income tax revenue has fallen $7,057,437.

Wage Increase

New York.—Harvey S. Firestone announced that all his company's stores through the United States would increase the pay of employees 10 per cent, effective June 15.

13,000 FRENCH VETERANS "INVADE" LONDON

The British capital woke quite early one morning recently to find 13,000 French soldiers "invading" the city. Fortunately for the sleepy Londoners, it was a peaceful invasion and the Foreign Office knew all about it. Here we see some of the 13,000 French ex-servicemen of the "Croix de Feu" marching in procession to Whitehall and the Cenotaph.

Canada's Foreign-Born Population

Saskatchewan Has Largest Number Whose Parents Are Not British

Ottawa, Ont.—Out of a total population of 971,785 at the last census, Saskatchewan had 398,619 persons whose parents were foreign-born. Those with Canadian-born parents numbered 219,289, while 170,356 had Empire-born fathers and mothers, a report from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics says.

Ontario had the next largest number of residents with foreign-born parents, these totalling 368,208.

The offspring of parents both foreign born in the other provinces was: Alberta, 309,325; Manitoba, 239,781; British Columbia, 163,938; Quebec, 157,492; Nova Scotia, 13,657; New Brunswick, 7,349; Yukon and North West Territories, 1,281; and Prince Edward Island, 513.

Toronto, Ont.—With the use of his automobile H. Oakley stopped a runaway team and prevented what threatened to be a serious accident. When the team bolted, Oakley raced after them, drew in front of them and slackened his speed until he felt the tongue of the wagon against his car. He continued to retard his pace until the horses were slowed to a walk.

BRITAIN MAKES PAYMENT TO U.S. ON WAR DEBT

London, Eng.—Payment of $10,000,000 in silver on Great Britain's war debt obligation of $75,000,000 due the United States was announced to the House of Commons by Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in a statement which acknowledged the "debt, pending final settlement."

Simultaneously the Chancellor stated formal debt negotiations between Great Britain and United States would be started at Washington as soon as possible in accordance with President Roosevelt's reply to the British remittance.

The United States accepted the partial payment, the Chancellor declared, "without prejudicing the freedom of either government in subsequent discussions."

News of the arrangement was hailed by the American delegation to the world economic conference and the Chancellor with high hopes that it might open the way for genuine progress toward economic rehabilitation.

The partial payment, Mr. Chamberlain told an enthusiastically cheering house, will be made in silver at 50 cents a fine ounce and constitutes "Great Britain's acknowledgment of her obligation to America under the war debt account."

Labor and Liberal spokesmen, applauding the arrangement, joined Mr. Chamberlain in praising President Roosevelt for his acceptance of the scheme of payment.

"The difficult and delicate problem has been adjusted," the Chancellor announced in revealing the results of several days' anxious negotiations between London and Washington.

"It is a good augury for the success of the world economic conference and may prove the first step toward complete and final settlement of the whole of the war debts."

The Chancellor revealed that the British Government had hoped it would be possible for United States to accede to a request that the payment of the June instalment be postponed pending discussion of the war debts as a whole.

"(The British government) maintained this hope up to a very recent date," the Chancellor continued. "In the end it became clear that it could not be realized. They therefore had to decide upon their course of action in these circumstances as they found them."

The American president was congratulated by Sir Stafford Cripps, Labor spokesman, for "the realism with which he has faced the situation."

Sir Herbert Samuel, Liberal leader, expressed his "deep appreciation of President Roosevelt's action in acceding to the agreement, which was a profound relief to all."

It was indicated in the House of Commons that Great Britain's $10,000,000 debt instalment actually cost her around $7,000,000, inasmuch as it was tendered in silver at the rate of 50 cents an ounce, under which debt remittances were permitted under recent congress authorization up to $200,000,000.

U. S. CHECKS UP ON THE WAR DEBT PAYMENTS

Washington.—Europe paid a little more than eight per cent. of the $144,180,000 war debt instalments and other countries immediately fell into line behind the United Kingdom to seek a review of the debt agreements from President Roosevelt.

One after another, the diplomatic representatives of the debtor nations called at the state department to present the decisions of their governments, until finally the line up showed payments from five nations, defaults by five and probable defaults by three others. One nation alone—Finland—paid in full the instalment due.

In all, the payments—$10,000,000 from Great Britain, about $1,000,000 from Italy, a maximum of $180,000 from Czechoslovakia, $25,000 from Roumania and the full payment of $148,592 from Finland—totalled $11,353,592.

France, Poland, Belgium, Yugoslavia, and Lithuania defaulted. Similar action by Hungary, Latvia and Estonia was indicated.

Meanwhile, the debt controversy had its inevitable echo in congress, but this time it was a statement by Senator Borah, Idaho Independent Republican, supporting President Roosevelt's action in receiving partial payments.

"If the economic conference breaks down it will be due to the attitude of the debtor nations," Borah said. "They seem determined to make the debts the whole thing. They may wreck the conference, and if they do, the economic misery and loss which will ensue will be far in excess of any benefit they might secure by cancellation of the debts."

Wheat Exports

Considerable Increase In Exports Shown Over Same Period Last Year

Ottawa, Ont.—The export of wheat in May totalled 21,464,848 bushels valued at $13,604,761, according to a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This compares with 15,543,013 bushels valued at $2,636,965 for the corresponding month last year, an increase in quantity of 5,921,835 bushels and an increase in value of $3,437,826.

The export to the United Kingdom last month was 15,065,521 bushels valued at $7,894,456, compared with 7,184,668 bushels at $4,378,962 in May a year ago, an increase in quantity of 82 per cent. and in value of 80 per cent.

General Smuts Cheered

Given Rousing Reception By Delegates To Economic Conference

London, Eng.—General Smuts, who is Deputy Prime Minister of South Africa, was the only one of eight speakers to be cheered as he went to the rostrum in the world economic conference assembly hall.

There was a roar of applause as the goggled old man was called upon by Prime Minister MacDonald and walked to the front of the meeting hall. He listened for a moment in bowed appreciation.

Despite his 63 years, General Smuts appears fair-haired rather than grey, and in a hale, hearty, vigorous figure. He saw here, 6,000 miles from his South Africa.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

DURING the day's travels around town, we dropped into the magistrate's court. Mr. Gresham was hearing a charge arising out of a woman throwing stones at a horse in East Coleman. The owner's dignity, also that of the horse, had suffered, the latter going slightly lame, it was alleged, as a result of this female Amazon's fury. There is nothing of unusual interest in cases of this nature. Many of our foreign-born population appear to have a weakness for appearing in court, where outraged feelings are vindicated by fines or short sentences being imposed.

THE interesting side of these petty cases is the patience necessary by magistrate and police to mete out justice, so that people of other lands, unaccustomed to Canadian courts, may feel, whether aggressor or aggrieved, that they have been dealt with fairly. The difficulties are increased by the necessity of evidence in most cases being taken through an interpreter, as there are as many languages spoken here as there were colors to Jacob's coat. It speaks well for our local magistrate that only in one or at the most two cases have his decisions been reversed by appeals. Most people regard appearances in court as being very undesirable. Others may consider they obtain cheap notoriety among their belligerent friends. No matter what their individual views may be, the magistrates must temper justice with mercy, and above all, make the punishment fit the crime. Occasionally a person receiving a sentence or being fined will mumble a word of thanks if he thinks he has not been dealt with harshly. Others will always be at war with society, and the most humane magistrate has no impression on them.

HON. HARRY STEVENS addressed a large number of electors of East Kootenay at Fernie on Monday. In his remarks, he stated he had arisen early that morning to walk around the city. He noticed some very fine homes, with shade trees and well-kept lawns. Occasionally between two homes which denoted pride and care on the part of the owners, he would notice one unkempt; no attempt made to cultivate the garden and a general appearance of neglect, even though occupied. He came to the conclusion that the owner was too busy to look after his own business—very busy looking after other people's business.

THIS IS a common failing with many. Admitting that community activities may take a share of a man's time, it should not be necessary for him to neglect his home surroundings to serve the community. It is regrettable that comparatively few will give time to promote local activities, and often, as a result, the willing horse is saddled with far more than his share. There are slackers in peace times as well as in war. The force of example is a powerful influence, either for good or bad.

PRINCIPLE is sometimes sacrificed to gain an advantage over a rival in business. Rotary clubs, fraternal and other organizations talk loud in meetings of a code of ethics, yet it is common knowledge that their so-called "code" is not observed. A man does not require to be a member of any organization to observe the golden rule. An honest man will have his own code of ethics, without it being necessary for a club to give him a card to display in his office to show that he does business on so-called ethical lines. What reliance can be placed on a member of an organization who on leaving his own city will go into other towns and in order to get business at any price, quote a lower figure than he would to his city customers? Code of ethics—bah! Business is business, regardless of all other consideration of honor and honesty, is the slogan behind which many take shelter. "He profits most who gyps the other fellow first." That has been the motto of many so-called successful business men in high places. The Morgan inquiry in the United States indicates the type of ethics used to gain unearned money.

FRIENDS, this is not the result of a disordered liver, neither the effects of the heat, but just common every-day observations of life and its complexities as one travels around trying to secure sufficient business to present this weekly Journal to the people of Coleman, the busiest town in the Pass now that it is shipping a few thousand tons of coke every week. Ain't life grand and glorious, if you just keep your mind in tune with the Infinite.

A FARMER'S family of eighteen came to town to see a show, but found that not one of the theatre's boxes could hold them even at the tightest squeeze. So nine of them saw the first part and nine of them the second. No. This is not a story from the land of Burns. It happened in Budapest.—Christian Science Monitor.

The death at Vancouver recently of F. W. Peters, former general superintendent, British Columbia district, Canadian Pacific Railway, severed one of the last remaining links on this continent with the pioneering railroad days of the early seventies. His service extended to nearly 32 years.
He was born in Saint John, March 25, 1850.

Grant Hall, senior vice-president, Canadian Pacific Railway, back from a three-week inspection trip that took him to the Pacific Coast, stated that he had seen and heard much of an encouraging character during his trip and nothing of a contrary nature. He added that there was distinct revival of hope and restoration of confidence.

Farm management through the application of business principles, practical and theoretical knowledge and ordinary horse sense to farm problems is a necessity of this day of lowered prices. F. C.
F. Herzer, manager Canada Colonization Association, told the Winnipeg Kiwanis at the Royal Alexandra Hotel, recently. The Association has extended its activities in Saskatchewan, where it now has 14 zone managers with 1344 farms of a total of 467,000 acres under supervision.

More than 300 scientists from 31 countries attended the fifth meeting of the Pacific Science Congress opened at the Empress Hotel, Victoria, June 1, and continuing at the Vancouver Hotel, Vancouver, until June 14. It was the first time the Congress has met on the American side of the Pacific Ocean. Lord Rutherford addressed the Congress from his home in England, his speech being carried by radio close on 6,000 miles to Vancouver.

League Football

Coleman and Fernie Play Non-Score
League Game on Local Field
Saturday, June 17th

Fernie and Coleman played to a draw of no score on June 17th on Coleman field. A wind blowing directly across the field made it difficult for control, consequently there was not the opportunity for good team work that spectators delight to see.

Fernie had slightly the better of the play, and kept McDonald, Coleman's goalkeeper, on his toes. A splendid shot by a Fernie player right into the goal mouth was caught by McDonald from a distance of not more than six yards. It was the nearest the visitors came to scoring.

"Jock" Anderson, midjet player for Coleman, was busy on the forward line, and Andy Gardiner at centre put a lot of energy into his play, but failed to score the coveted goal.

The line-up was as follows: Fernie
—Morris, goal; P. Corrigan, H. Corrigan, backs; Stewart, Coughlan, George, half backs; Sweeney, Bennett, Aberton, J. Hughes, Martin forward. President Harry Haigh accompanied the team, with several supporters. Coleman — McDonald, goal; Balloch, Joyce, backs; R. Wilson, Jimmy Anderson, J. Kapalka, half backs; G. Ford, W. Anderson,
Andy Gardiner, Ferrans, J. Anderson, forwards.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

First air express to reach Winnipeg from New York arrived here June 12. A Northwestern Airways plane made the trip in 20 hours.

Public works, instead of direct relief, will be the Quebec government's unemployment relief program this summer, Premier L. A. Taschereau has announced.

Canada will be represented at the fifth world's poultry congress, to be held in Rome, Italy, Sept. 5 to 16, next, by two official delegates, F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, and W. A. Brown, chief of the Poultry Division, Livestock Branch.

Sir Kingsley Wood, British Postmaster-General, who attended the opening of the new Dagenham, Essex, head post office, said that only 38 mail bags were lost in transit last year, 40,000,000 having been carried by rail.

Increased preferences in the tariff on goods entering Trinidad and tobacco from Canada and other parts of the British empire have just been enacted. The changes are expected to benefit Canadian trade to a considerable extent.

More than 500,000 persons visited the Royal Scot, crack train on the London, Midland and Scottish Railway, between May 1, when she was placed on exhibition in Montreal and May 25, when she arrived in Chicago for the Century of Progress Exhibition.

Increases of five per cent. in all salaries paid by the National Cellulose of Canada, Limited, will be put into effect this month it was announced. Better business during the past few months and complete confidence in the future were given as the reason for the salary increase.

In an emphatic denial that the Dominion government would be asked to call an interprovincial conference to discuss the limitation of working hours, Premier L. A. Taschereau stated recently that the question had not engaged the attention of the cabinet.

Why Producers Are Poor

Too Much Spread In Price Between Grower's and Consumer

A Goderich, Ontario, housewife bought a box of imported strawberries, for which she paid 29 cents. In the bottom of the box she found this note: "Please write me who bought this box and the price paid for it. We received 75 cents a crate of 24 boxes. Picked by Ruth Williams, Cullman, Alabama, Route 9." The grower therefore received about three cents for the box. The difference is accounted for by his customs duties (estimated at 15 per cent.), transportation charges and profits for the chain of middlemen between the grower and consumer. No wonder primary producers are poor.—London Advertiser.

Bannockburn Ark

Famous Scottish Relic Is Offered For Sale
London, Eng.—The Ark of Bannockburn is for sale.

Two days before the 619th anniversary of the battle, bids will be invited at Christie's for lot 38, the Monymusk Reliquary. It is the rectangular casket, 4½ inches wide, two inches deep and 3½ inches high, which Bernard, Abbot of Abbotshay, carried before the army of Robert the Bruce. The casket contained the relics of St. Columba.

It is now the property of Sir Arthur Grant, an officer in the Grenadier Guards. For more than 200 years it has been in the possession of his family at Monymusk, Aberdeenshire.

Fertilizers Analyzed

Owing to the activities of the markets and fertilizer division of the Dominion Seed Branch, practically no brand of fertilizer offered for sale in Canada for the past five years has escaped being analyzed at least twice in each inspection district where it is sold. In this way farmers are assured that the proper amount of plant food will invariably be found in their purchases of fertilizers.

Awarded Battle Colors

Thirty-two years after the peace of Vereeniging, which brought the Boer War to a close, 26 units of the Canadian militia have now been awarded with the battle honor, "South Africa," to be embroidered on their regimental color. Announcement to this effect was made from the headquarters of the defense department at Ottawa.

Brain Development Of The Ape

Learn More Quickly Than Humans At Early Age, But Advantage Rapidly Declines

The story of a baby chimpanzee that showed greater learning capacity than its human companion, the infant son of W. N. Kellogg, of Indiana University, is made public in a book by Dr. Kellogg outlining the experiment.

The author is associate professor of psychology. He placed the chimpanzee and his son under identical environment. They wore identical clothes, ate similar food, played together, received equal attention and had the same playthings. The experiment began when the boy, Donald, was 10 months old and the ape seven and one-half months old.

For eight and one-half months, Dr. Kellogg and his wife conducted learning, memory and co-operative tests with the two subjects. In all three departments the chimpanzee excelled.

But when the ape reached the age of 16 months, its improvement declined rapidly, whereas the boy's ability continued to increase.

Dr. Kellogg says the most amazing feature of the experiment was the fact that "the ape, if given the environment advantages which the human child enjoys, develops many of the customary childlike ways of behaving more rapidly than the child itself."

Dr. Kellogg called attention to the fact that chimpanzee's life span is shorter than that of the child, and consequently it reaches maturity and full control of its powers more quickly.

Scientists Honored

Seven Delegates To Pacific Science Congress Given Degrees By British Columbia University

Seven distinguished delegates to the fifth Pacific Science Congress were selected by the senate of the University of British Columbia for honorary degrees of doctor of laws and letters.

The following received degrees: Dr. Charles J. Gravier, professor of zoology, French National Museum, Paris; Professor G. I. Taylor, Yarrow Research Professor of the Royal Society of Great Britain; Dr. Shinkindai Hatai, professor, Imperial University, Tokyo; Prof. G. Van Isteren, director of laboratory for technical botany, University of Delft, Holland; Dr. W. T. Wayland Taylor, director of Scripps Institute of Oceanography, La Jolla, California; Dr. H. M. Tolly, chairman of the National Research Council of Canada and president of the fifth Pacific Science Congress; Dr. Yen Hao Wong, director of the geological survey of Peiping, China, who was unable to attend the Congress.

Modernizing the Navy

Vacuum Cleaners Now Used For Swapping Down Decks

"I would have been here earlier, my dear, but my vacuum cleaner did not function properly."

No, you are wrong. It's the British sailor explaining why he is late. It has just been announced vacuum cleaners have been issued to deck hands!

Surgeon Vice-Admiral Bond, medical director-general of the navy, has decreed the vacuum cleaner is more healthy than the old bucket and swab method, which made a continual steam arise as the heat of the ship dried the damp decks, promoting chest troubles and rheumatism.

Business Greatly Increased

Life Insurance Policies in Canada Total $65,000,000,000

The theory that it is an ill-wind which does no one good is illustrated in the fact that since the stock market crash new life insurance in Canada has increased by $2,250,000,000. The insurance department's latest figures for the past three years disclose that. In the same time, $2,000,000,000 of insurance lapsed or was surrendered. These were mainly policies of persons unable to pay the heavy premium. Insurance now in force totals $65,000,000,000 in Canada.

Mr. Barnes was in Montreal on his way back to England for a holiday.

Returned For Instructions
"You remember when you cured my rheumatism a couple of years ago?" asked the patient, "and you told me that I should avoid dampness."

"Yes, that's right," replied the doctor, approvingly.

"Well, I've come back to ask you if I can take a bath now?"

She: "This is an ideal spot for a picnic."

He: "It must be. Fifty million insects can't be wrong."

UNDoubted SLIMMING LINES AND CHIC

Suitable for normal as well as large figures. A dress so smart and so slenderizing at the same time.

It has a subtle air of youth. It's the fascinating one-sided raver collar that bows at the opposite shoulder that does it.

In the original dress of black and white crepe silk print, the raver collar was of white crepe silk.

The vest, belt and buttons were also of the white crepe. The scalloped outline at the lower end of the raver is particularly modish and minimizes bodice breadth.

This dress in plain navy blue crinkle crepe silk with white trim is most effective.

Style No. 361 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust.

Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 30-inch material with ¼ yard of 30-inch contrasting.

Price of pattern 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Search For
Floating Gold

Many People Hope For Luck In Finding Ambergis

In two articles in the Journal of the American Museum of Natural History, Robert Cushman Murphy, Curator of Oceanic Birds, assembles the known facts concerning ambergis, which he calls floating gold. The beaches of the Seven Seas have been searched for it. Dr. Murphy has scanned the surf line in Mexico, Peru, Ecuador, and the shore of the Mediterranean for a lump of it, and still hopes that his quest will yet be rewarded. The impression that there is plenty of ambergis about, and that any one may chance upon it sooner or later, seems to be warranted by the encyclopedia's assurance that the treasure may be picked up on the coasts of Brazil, Madagascar, Africa, the East Indies, China, Japan, the Moluccas, and of the West Indian Isles, particularly the Bahamas. The long Atlantic coast of the United States has been gone over mile by mile. At least forty enthusiasts have called at Dr. Murphy's office to learn whether a peculiar substance they brought with them was the real thing. Only one of them had been lucky enough to find ambergis. He was a prospector who had come upon a wolf in the act of sampling "a large chunk of caribou" on the beach near Nome.

Dr. Murphy says the animal was appropriating what was left. On being reproached by the curator that the stuff was actually "floating gold," he exclaimed: "To think that I had been ten minutes sooner that wolf wouldn't have cost me a five-thousand dollar meal. While the animal is sometimes out of levitation's vials, by whirling men, it was known and used by makers of perfumery centuries before the whaler made his discovery. A dealer in ambergis, which he purchased from whaling ships and beachcombers was Captain D. C. Stull of Provincetown, a friend of Dr. Murphy. The biggest sale known to them was that of a London merchant, who obtained $18,300 for a lump of 270 pounds.

Mucilage On Stamps

Is Perfectly Harmless, Says Stamp Maker

World postal officials who suggested raspberry and blueberry flavors for the "sticklabels" on postage stamps will not have their gustatory longings fulfilled, but if they like to use stamps as a present instead they may acquire a square meal; if they lick a lot of stamps.

The British American Bank Note Company at Ottawa, which prints a billion postage stamps a year for the Canadian post office, uses potato dextrine for stamp mucilage; a fine potato flour, finer than ordinary flour.

"In Canada potato dextrine has always been used." The Star was told by C. G. Cowan, president of the company; "I have old Canadian stamps on old receipts and vouchers like stamps as a present instead they may acquire a square meal; if they lick a lot of stamps.

The flour is made up with water and boiled and put on the stamps with rollers. It is never touched by hands, and while post office regulations call for a rubber roller or some other artificial means of moistening the mucilage, the general public still sticks to licks.

The potatoes from which the flour is made are grown in Holland, a special kind and the dextrine is made there and imported into Canada.

Making Large Advances

Canned Meat Exports Eight Times Greater Than Previous Year

Canned meat is a Canadian export which has been making large advances during the past year. During the 12 months ending April the export volume total was $57,651 pounds, which was about eight times greater than the 7,810 pounds exported in the previous twelve months. Last month's export alone, 67,271 pounds, was within striking distance of the total for the entire 12 months of the previous year.

Big Laundry Bill

The hospital laundry is a big item of expense in the institutions controlled by the London County Council.

In fifty-seven laundries attached to hospitals a staff of 1,100 washes more than 55,000,000 articles a year, at an annual cost of over $1,000,000.

Handicraft Exhibition

Canadian Handicraft Guild To Hold Exhibit In Montreal

The forthcoming handicraft exhibition of the Canadian Handicraft Guild will bring to Montreal many of the handiworks of Quebec, who pursue various domestic arts during their spare time on the farms. It will be the first trip to the metropolis for some of them. A detailed program has been drawn up and operation has been promised by the branches of the guilds in Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba and Prince Edward Island; by associated societies such as the Art Association of Montreal, the Women's Union Chapter of Cultivators, and affiliated societies such as the handicrafts association, of Canada, Toronto, and the Mount Allison Handicrafts Guild, Sackville.

New Car Is Success
A new double-decked rail-car with a speed of 125 miles an hour, has been successfully tested at Paris, France. Its 800 horse-power engine on benzol or alcohol, using one-third of a gallon to the mile. It carries eighty passengers, and is being installed on the Paris-Deauville run of the Etat railways, saving 40 minutes on the present time for the journey.

An Important Link
Hopes for further development of international air mail facilities were expressed by Brigadier-General Sir Frederick Williamson, C.B., C.B.E., president of the Universal Postal Union, who accompanied the party on a western tour. Canada, Sir Frederick said, may play an important role in the development of air mail.

Mars Not Inhabited

Such Is the Conclusion Reached By Scientists

Amateur astronomers and poultry raisers received a shock when the former learned Mars was uninhabited, and the latter that it was necessary to vaccinate one per cent.

Proof that there is insufficient oxygen in the bands around Mars to sustain life as we know it on the earth has been supplied through the medium of infra-red photography. Dr. W. S. Adams of Mount Wilson Observatory, Pasadena, California, told delegates to the fifth Pacific Science Congress.

Dr. Adams said recent developments in photography showed clearly that the oxygen content of Mars must be probably less than one-tenth of ours.

"A shock to amateur astronomers," comments Dr. J. B. Plasket, director of the Dominion astronomical observatory at Victoria, B.C., "but the truth must be told."

He added that it definitely set aside the idea of life on Mars as we know it on earth.

Addressing the animal diseases section of the congress, Dr. J. R. Beach of the College of Agriculture, Berkeley, Calif., said mosquitoes will carry foot-and-mouth disease from healthy chickens. Vaccination against the infection was the practice on many farms, the operation age being from 30 to 90 days.

Summer fallowing has reduced foot-rot diseases in western Canada, R. A. W. Henry, University of Alberta, told the delegates. He added that the effect of summer fallowing in reducing severity of foot-rot varied with the seasons.

Must Protect Forests

Canada and U.S. Are Given Significant Warning

Although not named other than as "countries on the eastern side of the Pacific," Canada and the United States are given significant warning to check devastation of their forest area by fire in a resolution passed by the Forestry and Meteorology Congress of the Fifth Pacific Science Congress.

Following a meeting, a select committee consisting of Dr. C. D. Howe, dean of the faculty of forestry, University of Toronto; E. H. Bowie, of the United States Weather Bureau, San Francisco; S. Fujita, of the U. S. Forest Service, D. Y. Lin, China, prepared the following resolution:

"Whereas in many countries of the Pacific basin, especially in those on the eastern side of the ocean, forest fires, increasing in number and destruction, threaten the life of the people."

"Be it resolved that the Pacific Science Congress invite attention of the countries concerned to the necessity of vigorous action in the suppression of forest fires in an effort to reduce the great depletion of standing timber, the destruction by uncontrolled floods and loss by soil erosion."

Japanese Army Offers Condolences To China

Sorry For Losses Sustained In Fighting Around Peiping

The Japanese army which recently threatened to occupy Peiping as part of a campaign to clear the Chinese from the southern side of the Great Wall of China offered their recent loss of the city as a gesture of condolence to the Chinese.

Marking the second time a Japanese plane ever landed at this metropolis, a Japanese bomber—minus the bombs—came down on the Chinese airport at the outskirts of the city. It carried a representative of the Japanese army seeking a responsible Chinese official to whom he could hand the condolences.

Finding no one with authority at the airport, he took off again in the plane, flew over the Japanese legation and dropped a letter within a metal cylinder which contained the Japanese official to whom he could hand the condolences.

Japanese legion officials to convey the message to Chinese military leaders.
